

The Academic Testing Center: FAQs for Students

What is the Academic Testing Center?

The Academic Testing Center, (ATC), provides a distraction free testing area for students with the goal of maximizing student performance while maintaining test integrity. In addition to our large testing space where we can accommodate up to 30 students, we have two rooms specifically for students who may need assistive technology, low light, scribes and/or readers. The ATC is located on the third floor of the Unistructure in suite M34.

How will I schedule my tests?

Students will schedule their tests via the online ClockWork portal, within the parameters set by the professor. Students must book their tests in ClockWork no less than two business days ahead of the testing date.

- To book your test, navigate to the ClockWork portal from the My Bryant portal and click on Schedule a Test or Exam.
- This will take you to the Booking Wizard page where you will click on Schedule a Test, Midterm or Quiz to get started.
- Follow the prompts to enter information about your test, your professor and the date and time you will be taking your test. ClockWork automatically calculates your accommodated time.
- In step 2 of the Booking Wizard, Class Test Date and Time, please enter the date and time you will be taking your test in the Testing Center – this may or may not be the same date your class is taking the test.
- At the end of the form, you will click on Finish. You will receive a message saying, “Thank you for your submission”. When you reach this page, you are all done booking your test.
- Note that ClockWork will not allow you to book your test less than two business days ahead of the testing date. If you miss the two-business day deadline, you must come to the Academic Testing Center and speak to one of our staff. You must present an email from your professor giving you permission for next day testing. We do not approve same-day testing.
- The ATC does not accept test bookings over the phone or through email. All bookings must be made through ClockWork or in person.

Must I use the Academic Testing Center for my tests?

No. Students with testing accommodations are not required to use the ATC for their tests. However, we strongly encourage students with testing accommodations to use the ATC for their tests.

What happens when I go to the Academic Testing Center?

Upon arrival you will be asked to show your student ID. Staff will help you stow all your belongings in a secure locker. This includes all electronic devices, food and beverages (you are permitted to take water in a clear water bottle only), coats and hats. All testing materials will be given to you by Testing Center staff. This includes scratch paper and writing instruments. Only those things specified by your professor can be brought into the testing room. This includes calculators, formula sheets, notes etc. If your test is computer based, you are free to use one of our computers, or, if your professor permits, your own computer. Testing Center staff have ear plugs, individual white noise machines and silent timers if you would like to use them.

During your test, Testing Center staff will be monitoring the time. Please note that all testing stations are video monitored and recorded. Students must show their wrists and empty their pockets prior to entering the testing room to demonstrate they are not wearing a smartwatch or carrying prohibited items.

Students must sign into all computer-based exams in the lobby, prior to entering the testing room.

Computer-based exams must be submitted in front of a professional staff member.

When is the ATC open?

The ATC is open from 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM Monday through Thursday with the first testing time being 8:00 am and all tests completed by 5:00 PM. On Fridays, the ATC is open from 8:00 AM to 2:30 PM with all tests completed by 2:30 PM. All tests start on the hour or half hour. Our goal is to support students with a variety of schedules. If you are in an evening course, please consult with our Testing Center staff to determine how we can support you. Operating hours for Final Exams will align with the Final Exam schedule.
