

Promoting Access, Wellness & Success (PAWS) Mentoring

PAWS is a mentoring program that helps first-year students with disabilities adapt to college life.

ADHD	LD	ASD
ADHD is one of the most common neurodevelopmental disorders. Students may have trouble paying attention, controlling impulsive behaviors and/or are overly active.	Learning Disabilities (LD) are disorders that affect the ability to understand reading or writing, do mathematical problems, coordinate movements, or direct attention.	Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD) is a developmental disability that can cause significant social, communication and behavioral changes.

You may choose to meet with a group of our PAWS mentors and/or be paired with one mentor who can answer questions and share advice based on their own experiences with disability at Bryant University.

Contact Dr. Marie Saddlemire at msaddlemire@bryant.edu for more information.